

Profile

Juliette Lee is a progressive leadership development and change facilitator.

A former chemical engineer with a decade of experience in ICI and Zeneca, combined with ten years working in personal and professional development, Juliette enables leaders and their executive teams to find their own authentic leadership style.

An approved speaker for Vistage, The Academy for Chief Executives and the Whitehall and Industry Group leadership programme, Juliette presents at events both large and small.

Juliette is a member of the Professional Speakers Association and Past President of the North East Chapter. As well as her public engagements, she is an accredited coach trained by the Coach Training Institute in San Francisco and a qualified NLP and MBTI practitioner.

Regularly appearing on radio, Juliette is a resident voice for BBC Tees radio contributing to discussions on a wide variety of topics on workplace and social issues.

A thought provoking and stimulating communicator in this difficult economic climate, Juliette's compelling and enthusiastic approach provides powerful, long-lasting results.
